

Kennedy's Plan Backed At Parley

PARIS, March 21 (UPI)—Most of the western allies lined up against France today in backing President Kennedy's plan for a multi-national force to defend against communist aggression.

West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Greece and Turkey all indicated their support of the plan at yesterday's meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) council.

With the United States, Britain and France pledged mutual support to the plan, this meant at least eight of the 18 NATO countries were behind it in various degrees.

President Charles de Gaulle, who rejects the multi-national force, and is building an independent nuclear force for France, ordered his foreign minister, Maurice Couve de Murville, to attend the council meeting and the British embassy lunch afterwards.

France's permanent NATO representative, Francois Seydoux, attended the council meeting but did not participate in the debate which followed a tough speech by British Foreign Secretary Sir Earl of Home.

The project is envisaged in three phases.

In the first, to be launched as soon as possible, participating countries would turn over to NATO command all of their existing conventional nuclear forces or nuclear potential.

In the second, Britain would add nuclear submarine forces and France would furnish its United States but British-built nuclear warheads.

In the third, on which preliminary work would be minimum, Britain would obtain bases, a surface fleet of some 25 merchant ships would be put together, manned by crews of mixed nationalities and carrying a total of 200 Polaris missiles.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL

A series of Pacific storm systems are expected to move across the northwestern United States in the next few days. A ridge of high pressure is moving slowly westward, it is believed to weaken the storms as they move into the Pacific Northwest and as a consequence the Intermountain region has been left with sunny skies and temperatures are expected to weaken the ridge resulting in precipitation in our high pressure areas.

A strong storm off the Oregon coast yesterday morning is moving northward and is expected to move across the southern portion of the state.

Another, more vigorous storm system is expected to move across the western Idaho Saturday or Sunday, with

400 Killed By Violent Bali Volcano

JAKARTA, Indonesia, March 21.—Bali Island, ranking as one of the most visited at 400,000 persons a day, a spokesman for the Indonesian civil defense organization said today.

The spokesman said there was an increasing threat of more violent eruptions from the 10,000-foot volcano in northeast Bali.

President Suharto had declared the tourist-mecca island a disaster zone.

It was not clear immediately whether the increased death toll was due to new eruptions. Previously officials had put the death toll at 150 or less.

A Red Cross source said latest reports listed 125 known injured. In view of the jump in the death toll, the number of injured also was expected to rise sharply.

The volcano erupted yesterday, Feb. 18, killing 100 persons and then lapsed into a lull. Last Sunday it began spewing out rock and lava.

The civil defense spokesman said 500,000 persons are on the island, and about 25 miles around the volcano, which the Balinese consider the center of the universe.

The island is just off the east coast of Java, Indonesia's most populous island.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY.

WASHINGTON, March 21—By the time this published Secretary of State Dean Rusk may have been seated into the Oval Office, the country will be split into two parts. One part will be the government and the other part will be the two who are rapidly losing their political influence.

Bundy, a sharp-faced genius of a man, is President Kennedy's No. 1 adviser on foreign affairs—and even Dean Rusk knows it. On paper, Bundy is the President's special assistant to the secretary of state and director of the national security council's professional staff. In action, he is secretary of state without portfolio.

Foreign policy is made by the President, with the advice and counsel of his secretary of state, who then passes it on to Bundy, giving Bundy the job title because it is he who has the President's ear on foreign policy and it is he who sees that what the President wants gets done. Rusk's advice is still sought and listened to, of course, but Bundy's maneuverings are, in his name, but Bundy's professional aggressiveness has shrewdly shifted the balance of power in his favor.

Entered as second class matter April 8, 1958, at the post office in Twin Falls, Idaho, under the act of March 3, 1939.

III-Advised Protest

Idaho teachers trying to drum up a protest over legislative appropriations for public schools would do well to consider their move a little more. Above all, they should proceed carefully and slowly with any proposal involving any form of strike. Rather than achieving any particular gains, rash action on the part of teachers could hurt their cause immediately for years to come.

There were some solid gains for Idaho teachers in the 37th session of the legislature. Public school appropriations for the last biennium totaled $3 million dollars. For the next two years, the figure is $4 million dollars, a 21 percent increase. In addition, the legislature removed the ceiling from the amount that can be raised through a local levy.

These are significant gains, ones that should not be taken lightly. Above all, teachers would do well to avoid any hasty and ill-advised action that could only be construed as rebellion.

Teachers also should weigh the attitude of legislators before they go demanding a special session to appropriate another five-million dollars for public schools. Just because the appropriation was raised by two million dollars in the closing days of the session doesn't necessarily mean lawmakers are ready to bow to any teacher demands. To the contrary, debate on the increase disclosed some questions and doubts.

Sen. Wayne Tibbets, D., Jefferson, asked, "If we give them an extra million dollars will it be used for fudge-making, baton-twirling and bowling alleys or for education?" He was answered by Sen. Rodney Hansen, R., Minidoka, "If you don't want the money to be used for fudge-making, I suggest you take an interest in how your local school board spends the money."

That doesn't sound like the legislature would be in the proper frame of mind to vote another five-million dollars for public schools.

Furthermore, teachers should be realistic enough to realize nothing short of a state disaster is going to get the legislature back in session now. Unless a real emergency develops or it becomes necessary to correct some defect in new legislation, the lawmakers aren't going to be meeting again until January, 1965.

In the face of sharply higher taxes, Idahoans generally wouldn't take kindly to anything that would squeeze another five million dollars out of their pockets.

Teachers would do well to consider these factors before any "look talk" of striking or demanding another five-million dollars. Such ill-advised action could result in alienating parents and taxpayers. Instead, teachers would do well to consider what answer they will give parents who one day will be asking why their children still can't read or add in spite of all the added millions appropriated for education. Many parents are wondering already.

SMALL FIRST STEP

The "one person, one vote" decision of the supreme court may be the first small step in the direction of reapportionment of state legislatures to catch up with the continuing shift in population. The decision itself did not go into the complicated and politically-explosive matter of reapportionment. But it did kill the unit system of voting used in Georgia. Under that system, a farmer's vote in the least populous county equaled 90 times the vote of an Atlanta resident. Obviously, Georgia politicians would concentrate their campaigns in rural areas. If they carried enough counties, it made no difference whether they got the city vote.

It has been reported some attorneys consider the "one person, one vote" rule was pretty much in the line of handwriting on the wall. If succeeding decisions were to specify legislative representation divided between rural and municipal, then the roof is off and reapportionment must be accomplished.

Traditionally, state legislatures have heavy delegations from rural areas. That was fine so long as most people lived in the country, but a minority of the population lives on farms now. However, farmers continue to dominate legislatures, as, witness the 37th session of Idaho's legislature which had 50 percent membership from the country.

Such disproportionate representation could result in discriminatory laws. An example is the sales tax bill which was considered during the 37th session. It would have excluded such items as feed, fertilizer and farm machinery, obviously to the unfair advantage of farmers over city residents.

One factor that has worked to maintain the heavy proportion of farmer legislators is the fact others might find it nearly impossible to get away from business and jobs for the first 60 days of the year. Legis. A reapportionment wouldn't change that situation.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

FEUDING IN THE FCC

The public may be surprised to find that the power Morgan has directed against the federal power commission, of which he is a member. His retiring commissioner says that his colleagues are "timorous and indecisive, that they are afraid to disturb the industry." Morgan, on the other hand, is "a real secretary of state," who is "a natural born leader, a born leader, a born leader, with the result that the public is being 'cheated, short-changed and defrauded.' Yet he has declined to bring any charges against individual members of the FCC. "It would be the greatest impropriety for me to comment on them, as individuals."

But in the absence of individual charges he has smeared the entire commission, without being either specific or convincing. "The commissioners are afraid to do anything, afraid to do anything, afraid to do anything, with the result that the public is being 'cheated, short-changed and defrauded.' Yet he has declined to bring any charges against individual members of the FCC. "It would be the greatest impropriety for me to comment on them, as individuals."

Mr. Morgan first got around to 12 specific complaints about the way in which the FCC operates. Some of his criticism was persuasive. For example, he said the power of the President to remove as well as to appoint the commissioners is "a most undesirable feature of the structure of the commission, with the result that the public is being 'cheated, short-changed and defrauded.' Yet he has declined to bring any charges against individual members of the FCC. "It would be the greatest impropriety for me to comment on them, as individuals."

The impression created by Mr. Morgan's testimony before a House commerce subcommittee is that he is letting off steam. His general and specific attacks are not of much value. He is a member of the chairman, who in turn is a captain of the White House." Well, this is undoubtedly a lot of captaining for a country, but the evidence to sustain these dire warnings was very meager indeed.

THE SPACE LATELY

By one of the shortest ages in the history of this old world was the Atomic Age. That, one has given way to the Space Age. It didn't take long to realize that the Space Age or even Technology—if you'll live long enough to remember that one!—has lately the convention program. Just such titles for discussion as "Are you going to market milk in the space age?"

And the cow jumped over the moon.—Atlanta Constitution.

Castro-Communists Plan Fast Report to U.S. Action

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP-Special Correspondent

The Castro-communist alliance in Latin America plans a swift report to the challenge of a new front for the Western Hemisphere.

At a meeting in Rio de Janeiro, Jose Castro, HUCA, by President Kennedy.

Communists of the hemisphere gather next Thursday in Rio de Janeiro, in what will be called "The Continental Congress."

The principal aims will be to move more aggressive, to step up the pace of revolutionary inclusives, and to rebuke mass sympathy for Fidel Castro's regime.

Moscow propaganda has been giving much attention to this challenge, claiming that "the new front" is the result of the efforts of organizations, political and social personalities, and plain people of Latin America" are rallying to the Castro banner.

In one respect, Moscow's superiority of congress is an answer to the red scare that has been accuse Premier Khrushchev's party of fanning in publishing revolutionary violence in underdeveloped areas. It also can be a weapon for countering Peking's influence in Latin America.

The communists and Castroists

—the terms are virtually synonymous—will use the congress to inventory their assets and prospects...positions of the pictures and revolutionary situations country by country, will be under microscopic analysis in the background meetings, while the oratory in the main hall lays down a manifesto.

The Rio meeting is expected to come up with some sort of blueprint for action.

If the congress follows Moscow's general directives for such enterprises, with what the Kremlin calls "the new logic of action," it will map out the areas where Moscow's struggle for electoral and economic power offer the prospects of better dividends.

These communists' main goal, in Mexico, in 1964, resulted in refinements in plan and methods of attack.

These probably included the combination of terrorism and political conflict adopted in Venezuela, which is considered a prime target.

Assailant to Face Trial on Hoffa Attack

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 21 (UPI)—Warren G. Lee, 21, former member of the group that fired an air pistol at Teamster's President James R. Hoffa Dec. 5 in a federal court room, was to go on trial today for conspiracy to kill Hoffa, who said he had a "vow" to kill Hoffa, walked into the courtroom where Hoffa, who's being tried for conspiracy last year, had fired several BB guns at him.

Several pellets struck Hoffa but did not injure him. Hoffa responded by shooting Swanson with a handgun. Lee, of Washington, D.C., a 21-year-old Washington lawyer, was beaten into submission by a U. S. deputy marshal.

He has been confined in the U. S. Medical Center, Springfield, Mo., since the United Government psychiatrists said he was competent to stand trial.

At the time of the attack, Hoffa was on trial for mail fraud. This started a law, a section of which holds that a mail official can not accept anything of value from an employer. The trial ended in a mistrial.

Too Much Leg?

SYDNEY, Australia, March 21 (UPI)—Gen. Wilfrid Kitchener, chief of staff of the Salvation Army, says women show far too much leg.

"Nowadays, skirts are much too long," he said in an interview today.

"How long would you like to see our skirts?" asked a girl reporter in a knee-length skirt.

"Women ask my wife," answered the general smiling. "But I would say a skirt which comes halfway between the knee and ankle would seem moderate."

The general is visiting

Australia for three weeks.

Pilot Says X15 Limit Untouched

LOS ANGELES, March 21 (UPI)—Joe Walker, chief X15 project pilot for the National Aerospace and Space Administration (NASA), who holds the rocket plane's current altitude record, can break its own altitude record with a flight to almost 75 miles.

Walker told a news conference yesterday he flew the X15 to the current altitude record of 314,750 feet—slightly more than 50 miles—with a flight to 400,000 feet.

However, the veteran test pilot said the rocket plane would have to undergo power plant modification to improve on its world speed record of 4,104 miles an hour.

"We would definitely have to increase the thrust to get more speed," said Walker, who was at the controls when the present speed record was set.

LONG BEACH, Calif., March 21 (UPI)—"I'm getting back my girlish figure," 260-pound Mrs. Mary Ferguson said yesterday.

The 38-year-old housewife said she would probably be weightless if she could lose another 100 pounds. She lost four pounds in the first 48 hours, but hopes to lose 50 pounds so she can find her new Easter clothes that she can't fit into now.

Mrs. Ferguson, who weighed 120 pounds when she was married 18 years ago, entered a hotel diet clinic and went on a diet of 1,200 calories a day. She says she's slimming when she goes back to her husband's rich foods.

In Egypt Is Hit by Israel

The resolution, carried without opposition, said that "we" must not allow people could not absolve themselves of the responsibility for "this vile work."

The resolution was sponsored by all parties except the communists, who abstained. The communists said that they were "recorded as abstaining."

The vote followed a demand by Foreign Minister Golda Meir for German government action to stop the German scientists.

The scientists, as an "evil crew," said they were working for the destruction of Israel through "prohibited weapons."

The debate in parliament was triggered by the arrest in Switzerland of two men accused of being Israeli agents.

'Quickie' Divorce Plan Is Attacked

HONOLULU, March 21 (UPI)—A bill that would permit a "quickie" divorce to lure tourists to the islands was attacked yesterday by both religious and church leaders.

Sen. Julian Vane, Jr., Hawaii, introduced the proposal, which would set aside the residency requirement for divorce from two years to six months. This, he said, would stimulate the tourist trade.

"Our church leaders say it will be a 'hotbed of ridiculousness' and another Reno. One's too many," Deeds President Donald K. Deeds said. "We don't want to attract tourists that way. It's rather poor method."

LDS Leader
Comments on Birch Society

SALT LAKE CITY, March 21—
The local LDS church has received at least 1,000 queries seeking the church's opinion of the John Birch society.

That was the report from Pres.
Talmage B. Benson, president of the church, Councilor of Twelve Apostles, and former secretary of agriculture, Wednesday.

He said he is amazed at the number of inquiries. "A few thousand persons, either members of the society or just well informed, have written President David O. McKay to learn their stand."

Benson said at once he is not a member of the group but said he "strongly" believes in its principles. He said it's too busy with church work to join many organizations he has been invited to support.

John Birch, where am I? Reed, the Utah coordinator of the society, said: "I have stated, as my personal opinion only, that the John Birch society has the organization in our fight against creeping socialism and godless communism."

He pointed out that only LDS Pres. David O. McKay speaks for the church on matters of policy.

Benson returned from a two-day business trip in New York Wednesday.

Representative Status-Seeking Rapped by Gross

WACON, March 21—
Rep. H. R. Gross, D., is getting ready to take on the budget committee of the House of Representatives.

He said he has been asked what he views as unparalled status-seeking by his colleagues.

"Gross, a budget hawk from way down the hill, is calling on his colleagues to let him off the rolls of house members and give them more taxpayer-financed trips home," another effort to keep up with the Senate, he said.

"It is designed to keep up with the Senate," he said.

The proposals approved yesterday by the house budget committee would permit each member to hire an extra clerk and allow lawmakers up to three round trips from Washington to their home district each year.

Exchange Pupil Talks to Grange

WACON, March 21—
Koosje Bok, Twin Falls exchange student from the Netherlands, was guest speaker when the Fronten Grange met Monday night.

Miss Bok was presented by Mrs. David A. McClusky, who explained the procedure for exchange students. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bok, a special guest.

Miss Bok told the Grangers some of her impressions of America and gave a graphic account of life in the Netherlands.

A brief business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Ed Carlton, in the continuation of the program, which was presented by Mrs. Elwyn Allison, lecturer.

Refreshments were served by the committee consisting of Mrs. Dale Buds,

Mrs. Ed. Carlton and Mrs. Carl Estep.

Mississippi's Plan Pays Off

JACKSONVILLE, March 21—
Mississippians paid yesterday that Mississippi's program of sending speakers to other states is paying off by winning kills in the fight for state rights.

Mississippi has "been trying to 'crystallize public opinion' in speeches around the nation. "I think we're getting some good results. We see the same pendulum is swinging our way."

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 21.—The auto smog problem may be solved by a device that burns an alcohol-gasoline mixture in the Los Angeles control district would reduce urban hydrocarbon emissions 60 per cent overall.

This would be without the use of special control devices.

Preliminary findings indicate that an unmodified high-compression engine can burn a mixture of grain alcohol and gasoline and reduce certain smog-producing gases as much as 60 per cent.

Southwest Research Institute's environmental division, headed by a 15 per cent alcohol-85 per cent premium gasoline mixture and a 25 per cent alcohol-75 per cent premium gasoline mixture.

At lower speeds, the premium gasoline was more efficient. At 40 miles an hour, the 25-75 mixture matched premium gasoline on the basis of economy, but at higher speeds, they were not far apart.

Greater differences showed up in reduction of exhaust gases. At 40 miles an hour, the alcohol-gasoline mixture reduced hydrocarbons 60 per cent.

That would be without the use of special control devices.
